MUST OBLITERATE GRADE CROSSING

Dangerous Conditions at Telegraph Road to be Abolished.

NO COST TO FAIRFAX.

Commission Orders Southern and Washington Southern Railways to Proceed With Work at Once.

A sweeping victory for the people of Alexandria city and Fairfax county was won before the State Corporation Commission in Richmond yesterday when that body decided the long drawn out fight against the Southern Railway and the Washington-Southern Railway by requiring the two defendant companies to at once eliminate the Telegraph Road Crossing, one mile west of the city limits of Alexandria, and substitute therefor an underground crossing which is to be paved with good material and properly drained.

The underground crossing to be used by teams, automobiles and pedestrians will eliminate one of the most dangerous grade crossings in the state, where there have been a large number of accidents. The Telegraph Road, which is the highway between Washington, Alexandria and Richmond, has been in existence for more than 100 years. It is at present crossed by seven railroad tracks. Protests have been made for many years against the dangerous conditions existing at this point and after several conferences with the representatives of the railroad companies the latter agreed to construct an underground crossing provided that the expense be divided between their companies and Fairfax county. The county authorities refused to do this and matter then went to State Corporation Commission which rendered a decision that the entire cost must be borne by the railways.

The decision rendered by Judge Rhea as follows:

This is a proceeding instituted by the State Corporation Commission against the Washington Southern Railway Company and the Southern Railway Company on complaint of the authorities and citizens of Fairfax county to investigate the alleged dangerous situation where what is known as the Telegraph Road crosses at grade the tracks of the defendant companies in Fairfax county.

This action was taken on the part of the commissioners after long correspondence and repeated efforts on the part of the Commission and the authorities of Fairfax county to induce the said railroad companies to take such action as might be necessary to relieve the situation at said crossing.

The said railroad companies appeared and made answer to the said proceeding instituted by the Commission and practically admitted the necessity for the elimination of said grade crossing in cause 5 of said answer as follows: "That the defendant companies are willing that the said Telegraph Road be carried under the tracks as contemplated in the said order issued by this honorable body on March 12, 1913, provided the expense of the same be equally divided between the said railroad companies on the one part and the county of Fairfax on the other part, as contemplated by the laws of Virginia."

For the purpose of making the authorities of Fairfax county parties to the proceedings the said defendant companies asked that their answers be taken as cross petitions against the authorities of Fairfax county, and that they be required to appear and make answer to said cross petitions. On the day set for hearing the Board of Supervisors of Fairfax County appeared before the Commission by counsel and objected to its being made a party and required to answer in said proceedings upon the ground that the State Corporation Commission had no jurisdiction as against the Board of Supervisors of Fairfax county and could not enforce any order or orders it might make in said proceedings against the Board of Supervisors of Fairfax county but could only enforce such order or orders against the defendant companies as being public service corporations.

We are of opinion that the objection of the Board of Supervisors of Fairfax county should be sustained and that said county should not be required to answer said cross petitions.

The evidence of a number of witnesses was taken at the hearing as to the dangerous character of said Telegraph Road Crossing.

It appears that the Telegraph Road, which is a highway between Richmond and Alexandria, has been in existence for more than one hundred years, and was there before the tracks of either of the defendant companies were built across it just outside the city limits and south of the City of Alexandria, Virginia.

There are now seven railroad tracks of the defendant companies crossing said road at grade at the point in question.

There are four main line tracks, two owned by the Washington Southern Railway Company and two by the Southern Railway Company. The other three tracks are used for t standing of cars and for switching purposes.

It appears that there are from two hundred to two hundred and fifty passenger and freight trains passing this crossing every day.

This crossing is frequently traveled by persons going in and out of Alexandria, and accidents have occurred and others been narrowly averted, although there has been a day watchman there for several years, and the said companies were required several months ago to put a night watchman there also.

But notwithstanding this the dangerous character of the crossing has not been eliminated.

It appears from the record that the Commission made a personal inspection of this crossing, and this was done in the presence of the representatives of the two defendant companies.

From the record in this case and all the evidence before the Commission, we are clearly of opinion that said grade crossing should be eliminated, and that as early as practicable there should be substituted therefore an underground crossing such as is shown on the blue print filed in the record marked "No. 1004. Washington and Southern Railway Proposed Undergrade Bridge at Telegraph Road Crossing, Fairfax Co., Va." with the following additions recommended by Burton Mayre, civil engineer, in his report of date June 25, 1912, addressed to a member of this Commission, as follows, to-wit:

1st. That a wire screen covering be placed on top of the ties, extending from inside to inside of guard rail (or about 9 feet in width on each track for its entire length) to prevent clinkers, etc., from the ash pans of engines, and leakage from defective cars, falling into the underpass, and provide open skylights between the tracks for light and ventilation.

2nd. That the roadway or underpass be paved for its entire length between the concrete walls with some good material and tha four catchbasins properly protected by removable iron gratings should be constructed,one on each side of the north or west entrance and one on each side of south entrance, or each just at the end of the abutments, connecting same with 30-inch iron drain pipe leading from the underpass and emptying into the overflow race, situated about eight hundred feet south of the tracks, as shown on the blueprint.

The defendant companies contend in their answers that under Clause 39 of Chapter 4 of an act approved January 18th, 1904, that the county of Fairfax should be required to pay one-half the expense of constructing an underpass at said crossing. Whatever rights the defendant companies may have against the county of Fairfax for any part of the cost of making this improvement cannot be asserted before this tribunal, for as stated heretofore, this commission has no jurisdiction over the authorities of Fairfax county.

In Clause 38 of said Chapter 4 of the act concerning Public Service corporations, the policy of this State is declared to be against grade crossings of railroads and county highways, and entirely in a case like this where the evidence, in the judgment of the Commission, shows conclusively the dangerous character of the crossing in question, and the Commission having ample power under the constitution and laws of this state to remedy this condition, it is its duty to do so, and leave the defendant to assert whatever claims they have a right to assert against the County of Fairfax in the proper courts of the Commonwealth. An order will therefore be enforced directing and requiring the defendant companies to proceed forthwith to construct an undergrade crossing, in accordance with this opinion, where their line crosses the Telegraph Road as aforesaid.

All other questions are reserved.

Commissioners Prentis and Wingfield concur.

WILL AGAIN BE BEFORE CONGRESS

Compensation Measure to be Introduced at the Next Session.

THE SUTHERLAND BILL

Measure Has Backing of Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Other Bodies.

Washington, Oct. 28.—Workmen's compensation is one of the subjects which will get a large share of attention in the coming regular session of Congress.

Already a number of bills have been introduced, dealing with one phase or another of workmen's compensation. A strong effort will be made to get legislation enacted during the coming winter, especially with respect to railroad employes and civil employes of the Government.

Opposition in the last Congress to such legislation was strong. The effort to get a workmen's compensation bill provoked great opposition. Much of this was traced, it was freely charged, to lawyers, who, under the present system, do a profitable business in the handling of personal damage suits against railroads.

The bill which attracted most attention in the last Congress in this connection was the Sutherland bill. This was the outgrowth of an investigation by a Congressional commission. It has been reintroduced by Senator Sutherland, and its purpose is expressed in its title, which is, "to provide an exclusive remedy, and compensation for accidental injuries resulting in disability or death of employes of common carriers by railroads engaged in interstate or foreign commerce." The Davis bill, in the House, is of a similar nature.

Legislation of this sort has been strongly favored by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and other organizations of railroad employes, although elements in these organizations have opposed it. The American Federation of Labor has been friendly to such legislation. It is asserted that proper compensation legislation applicable to railroad employes would save the employes and their families several million dollars annually which are now eaten up in legal fees paid to attorneys for conducting damage suits.

The present system, though it results in jries and courts at times giving verdicts for large sums does not work out equitably, for the reason that in some meritorious cases the carriers escape payment on injuries entirely while in others they have to pay heavily. It is insisted for compensation legislation that it would come much nearer giving a square deal all around than the present system.

Congressmen Sabath, of Illinois, Gardner, of Massachusets, Dupre of Louisiana; McGillicoddy, of Maine, and Rupley, of Pennsylvania, have introduced bills which extend the scope of workmen's compensation with respect to civilian employees of the Government of the United States.

ALLEGED RITUAL MURDER.

Cardinal Merry Del Val Declares it Baseless and Wicked Invention.

London, Oct. 28.—Correspondence between Lord Rothschild and Cardinal Merry del Val is published here, the Papal Secretary of State confirming that Pope Innocent IV issued an encyclical, in which he declared that the charge of ritual murder as applied to Judaism was a "baseless and wicked invention," and that other Popes made similar announcements.

This has a bearing on the trial of Mendel Belis, charged at Kief with the murder of the Christian boy Yushinsky.

Chicago, Oct. 28.— Denouncing in vigorous terms the Russian government for its attitude in the "ritual murder" case the Very Rev. Father Callaghan, C. S. P., one of the most prominent priests in the United States, and a friend of Pope Pius X, yesterday said:

"The greatest glory of the Catholic Church is that it is Jewish, and the greatest honor any man may have is that the may say in some sense that he is of the House of Israel. The greatest work we can do is to stamp out the hatred of the Jews by men who call themselves Christians.

"Teach them that the Master was a Jew, that the apostles were Jews, and that the Virgin Mother of Christ was a daughter of Judea. There never was a race that was given so much of precious things, nor a race that has given so much mysticism, that blessed mysticism of brotherly love.

"In this particular case we can all learn the lesson that the highest, noblest, and best thing in life is to learn to love one another."

For the murder of David Cooper, Baltimore, H. B. Williams and John Beard were sentenced at Lynchburg, Va., to five years on the roads.

DIAZ ABOARD OF U. S. GUNBOAT

Man Who Accompanied Him From Havana is in Custody.

AMERICAN ARRESTED.

Three Other Men Are Taken Aboard Armored Vessel at Vera Cruz—Newspaper Man Prisoner.

Vera Cruz, Oct. 28.—General Felix Diaz today was under American protection on the United States gunboat Wheeling. Diaz applied for protection to Consul Canada during the night, following the arrest by Mexican police of L. Blum, an American, who accompanied Diaz from Havana and has been with him since he arrived in Vera Cruz.

Cecilia Ocon and Jose Sandoval, friends of Diaz, and Alex. H. Williams, a newspaperman, also asked for protection, and were put on the Wheeling.

John Lind, President Wilson's special envoy in Mexico was making an investigation, and will make a report to Washington.

Washington Oct. 28.—While reports concerning the Mexican situation, and the international complications growing therefrom, are scattered and unofficial, the salient facts appear to be:

That the United States will not attempt armed intervention in Mexico, but will, according to President Wilson's speech in Mobile, adopt a policy of "human rights, national integrity, and opportunity, as against material interests." The President added: "Never again will the United States seek to obtain an additional foot of territory by conquest."

That Great Britain's recognition of Dictator Huerta ended with the election on Sunday and that England will be guided by the United States in adopting its future policy toward the Latin republic.

That the Mexican election will be declared void because of insufficient votes, and that Huerta will remain Provisional President pending another election.

WOMAN ROBBED.

Norfolk Milliner Accuses Cabaret Dancer of Theft of Jewels and Money.

New York, Oct. 28.—A young woman, arrayed in a velvet suit of latest cut, and so pretty, small and dainty that every detective in police headquarters crowded forward in the hope that he might be able to do something for her, walked into the detective bureau Saturday. Behind her strode Detective Marron, but the idea never occurred to anyone that the girl could be under arrest until Marron led her to the desk.

She was Miss Alaine Mechis, a cabaret dancer, well known around Long acre Square. Marron said she was under indictment for grand larceny. The girl is accused o fstealing $1,000 worth of jewelry and $275 in cash from Miss May Woodall, of Norfolk, Va. Marron armed with a bench warrant, had been looking for the girl for several months, and learning that she was stopping at the Hotel Van Cortlandt, he waited until she came by and arrested her.

The girl refused to answer any questions or to tell anything about herself. Her indictment, Marron said, grew out of a visit paid by her in May to Norfolk, where Miss Woodall had advertised her millinery business for sale. Miss Mechis was accompanied by a man who represented himself to be a broker of this city, and both seemed so pleased with Miss Woodall's terms that all three came to this city to close the deal. The young women took a suite together, and in the morning the milliner awoke to find Miss Mechis gone and discovered that her jewelry and her money had disappeared.

CHARGED WITH MURDER.

New Mexico Lawyer Held on Serious Charge.

Alamogordo, N. M., Oct. 28.—H. H. Major, an attorney, was arrested here early yesterday on a charge of murder growing out of the death of his daughter, Eudora. The insurance company declined to pay the policy on the daughter, and her body was disinterred and the stomach analyzed in El Paso, Tex.

Disbarment proceedings are pending before the attorney general of New Mexico against Major on charges of having illegally disposed of funds of his clients.

THE ENABLING ACT.

Successor of John Randolph Tucker in the State Senate Will Cast Deciding Ballot.

Washington, Oct. 28.—The fate of the prohibition enabling act in the next State Senate of Virginia hangs upon the result of the State Senatorial election in the First Senatorial District between L. P. Summers, Republican, and Frank Buchanan, Democrat, according to statements made by Southwest Virginia Republicans in Washington.

It is said that State Senators who voted against the enabling act in the last State Senate have been won over by the temperance forces, and that if a "dry" man succeeds John Randolph Tucker from the Bedford county district the "wets" and "drys" will be even in strength with the First District Senator having the deciding vote.

Summers, who is a former collector of internal revenue, will, it is alleged, vote against the enabling act, while Buchanan, the Democrat, has pledged himself to support it. Summers, in his campaign speeches, has not flatly stated he is opposed to the enabling act, but the "wet" interests believe he is and are supporting him warmly. The temperance forces are behind Buchanan.

3,000 PERSONS IN A RUN ON A BANK

Drunken Man in Philadelphia Causes All the Excitement.

CALLS FOR THE POLICE

Million Dollars Rushed to Institution—Nearly Quarter of a Million is Paid Out.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 28.—Rumors of insolvency started by a drunken man who tried to overdraw a petty account, by a foreign-born woman whose unindorsed check was rejected and by an ambiguous newspaper item caused a run yesterday on the Kensington Trust Company that continued from 11 o'clock in the morning until 9 p. m. During that time nearly a million dollars in currency was rushed to the institution at Kensington and Alleghany Avenues to meet the clamorous depositors and upwards of $200,000 was paid out to more than 3,000 men and women.

For more than ten hours a mob of excited men and hysterical women surged about the doors of the bank. Most of them were mill workers whose savings averaged about $50. Three calls were sent to City Hall for police to marshal the lines of waiting depositors and to guard those who had drawn their accounts. It was a common sight for a woman on whose face were the lines of care and poverty, and about whose skirts were clinging a brood of dirty children, to leave the bank with a roll of greenbacks in her hand, too dazed at the possession of her savings to hide them from the gaze of the mob.

George S. Cox, president of the institution, made two statements attesting the solvency of his bank. His statements were backed up by another one made by Joseph Riley, a State Bank examiner. Riley happened to pass the bank in the afternoon, when the run was at its height. He immediately conferred with the officers of the institution and telephoned assurances of the bank's solvency to the State Banking Department at Harrisburg. Further evidences of the confidence enjoyed by the institution came in the form of huge deposits by depositors, directors and other banks. Shortly after the stream of men and women began to pour into the bank $500,000 in currency was dispatched to the Kensington institutions by the Union National Bank, Third and Arch streets. This sum, with $200,000 more withdrawn from the bank's vaults, was heaped about the paying tellers in full view of the panic-stricken depositors. A quarter of a million dollars was hurried to the place by the Philadelphia National Bank and later in the afternoon deposits aggregating $93,000 were placed in the institution by the treasurers of three Kensington manufacturing concerns.

The excitement was finally allayed when conditions became normal.

By the failure of three of the Democratic nominees to file with the clerk of the Corporation Court of Alexandria a sworn statement that they would be candidates for the offices for which they were nominated in the general election to be held on next Tuesday, their names will not appear on the official ballots, and in order for them to be elected voters will be compelled to write ther names on the ballots or to use stickers, which may be provided.

The three candidates are J. Fred Birrell, who was nominated as a member of the House of Delegates of Virginia in a primary held last June, Charles S. Swain and Carter H. Smith, who were declared the nominees of the party for the positions of measurer and inspector of timber and measurer and inspector of wood and bark, respectively.

The failure of the candidates to file their statements was not discovered until yesterday when the officials ballots were received by the electoral board from the printer and it was found out that the names of these had not been inserted. A hurried consultation was held between the members of the board, the city Democratic committee, Judge L. C. Barley and Clerk Nevell S. Greenaway, of the Corporation Court, but it was found that there was no way by which the names could be inserted. The state law prescribes that each candidate must file his name twenty days before the election and no one has the power to add a name after the time for filing has expired.

New tickets were ordered from the printer which will have the name of the office printed with a blank space underneath which can be used by the voters to write in the name of the candidate.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION

LAWYERS IN A MIX-UP.

Several Blows Passed at Amherst Courthouse Participants Fined.

Amherst, Va., Oct. 28.—Ex-Judge C. J. Campbell, Attorney Edward Meeks and Colonel C. B. Christian had a severe altercation in the Amherst county courthouse. Several blows passed between the parties and a regular hand-to-hand tussle ensued, which might have resulted seriously but for the intervention of friends of the parties. The judge fined Messrs. Campbell and Meeks $25 each.

The case of Bullock vs. Christian was being heard. Mr. Meeks, representing the plaintiff made the opening argument. Judge Campbell, representing the defendant, took exception to some statements made by Mr. Meeks, and thereupon the difficulty arose.

DEATH OF JAMES LYONS, JR.

Distinguished Lawyer and Legislator Succumbs After Lengthy Illness.

Richmond, Oct. 28.—Colonel James Lyons, Jr., a distinguished lawyer and legislator, son-in-law of William Wirt Henry, died in the Grace Hospital this morning at 2:45 o'clock after a long and painful illness. Poor health caused Colonel Lyon's retirement from active practice about thirteen years ago, and since then he had lived in Charlotte county and in Ginter Park. During recent years he underwent many operations in the hope of relieving his suffering. He was fifty-six years old.

During his active years Colonel Lyons was a prominent figure in the political life of this State, and served as a member of the Governor's staff in the O'Ferrall administration. In 1879, at the age of twenty-wo, he was brought out as the Democratic nominee for the House of Delegates in Richmond, and elected. He took his seat as the youngest member of the House. He was re-elected to the General Assembly until he eventually became the senior member of the Richmond delegation. He was an eloquent speaker, a lawyer of ability and a leader in legislation.

Colonel James Lyons, Jr., was born in Richmond on January 11, 1857, the son of William H. Lyons and the grandson of James Lyons.

Kills Woman and Himself.

Wytheville, Va., Oct. 28.—Mrs. Margaret Shaffer was shot and instantly killed in her home here yesterday afternoon by Lee Jones, who then committed suicide. There had been strained relations between Mrs. Shaffer and her husband, Frank Shaffer, caused by the attention of Jones to the former. A reconciliation between them had taken place and Shaffer had arranged to take his wife to Bristol Wednesday, where he had obtained work. Jones went to the Shaffer home and fired two bullets into Mrs. Shaffer's side in the presence of her mother. The murderer then went into another room and placed the pistol in his mouth and fired.

Mr. Berry was born in Richmond, and with the exception of a few years of his youth spent in New York, lived all his life in this city. He started in the clothing business in 1870.

Mr. Berry was connected with the Second Presbyterian Church. He was a member of the Westmoreland, Commonwealth and Country Clubs, of the New York Atheltic Club, and others.

Norfolk, Va., Oct. 28.—With six of the eight members of the executive board of the Norfolk Equal Suffrage League opposing the proposition it is certain that Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, British militant suffragette, will not visit Norfolk.

The executive board of the Norfolk League met last Saturday and it adopted a resolution offered by Mrs. Frank D. Washington, of London Bridge, dismissing from consideration either directly or indirectly any plan to have Mrs. Pankhurst lecture in this city. The resolution wa soffered after it had been proposed to bring the militant leader here and was adopted by a rising vote.

Battleship Pennsylvania.

Newport News, Va., Oct. 28.—The keel of the battleship Pennsylvania, the last order placed by the United States Navy Department for a super-dreadnought cruiser, was laid yesterday at the yard of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company. The same ways on which the Texas was laid are being used, having been enlarged to accommodate the increased length and breadth of the Pennsylvania. Not only will the Pennsylvania be larger than the Texas, but she will be equipped with modern turbine engines, whereas the engines of the Texas are reciprocating. The contract for the Pennsylvania calls for completion in 32 months. It will be 14 months before she is ready to launch.

ENGINEER IS FREED.

Coroner's Jury and Police Justice Exonerate Acused For Running Over Youth.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 28.—John A. Turner, a Chesapeake and Ohio railroad engineer, accused of homicide in connection with the death of John T. Burch, 18 years old, was twice exonerated of all responsibility in the space of an hour yesterday. He was first cleared by the coroner's jury and immediately after by Judge Griggs, sitting in police court.

Policemen who investigated the case testified that Burch was intoxicated when last seen Saturday night starting to walk home along the railroad tracks. It is thought he la down on the tracks near sixth and Canal streets because he was overcome by sleep.

His body was found there two hours later cut in two by a string of freight cars attached to Turner's switch engine. A train operated by Turner ran over and killed another white man under similar circumstances at the same place a few weeks ago. On neither occasion was he aware that his train had killed a man until hours afterwards.

STRICKEN FAMILY.

Mother Dead and Four Children Suffering From Scarlet Fever.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 28—With their mother dead and every effort being made to keep the other members of the family from contracting the disease which caused her end, four children of Mrs. Charles M. Gilbert, of Twenty Second street and Fairmount avenue, who has been suffering from scarlet fever and are now afflicted with diphtheria, were too ill to see her before her body was taken away for the funeral in Oakwood yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Gilbert died late Saturday night of diphtheria, after she had contracted scarlet fever from her children.

The little children, who have been seriously ill attended Fairmount school. Only one child of the family and the father have escaped the disease which ended the mother's life. One other child's death is momentarily expected.

Suits Against the Allens.

Richmond, Va., Oct. 28.—Judge Waller R. Staples, of Roanoke, has been designated by Governor Mann to sit for Judge A. A. Campbell, of the Wytheville Circuit Court on November 7 to try civil cases against members of the Allen family growing out of the Hillsville Courthouse tragedy, March 14, 1912.

Several days after the shooting up of the court in Hillsvile suits for $10,000 each were brought for the widows of Judge Thornton L. Massie, Commonwealth Attorney William M. Foster and Sheriff Lewis F. Webb, all of whom met death in the fusilade of bullets which followed Floyd Allen's conviction. All the property belonging to Floyd Allen and Sidna Allen was seized, to be held to await the result of the suits. Judge Staples presided at the murder trials which sent two of the Allens to the electric chair and others to the penitentiary.

THE DANGEROUS BANANA SKIN.

Walking along the retaining wall in Grant Boulevard, Pittsburg, Pa., Sunday night, Stephen Barr slipped on a banana peeling, pirouetted for an instant, then topping over the low railing, shot 400 feet into darkness and a chance mudhole 30 feet above the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks, on a narrow shelf in the cliff. If the banana peeling had been 20 feet either way from the spot where Barr encountered it, his death would have been certain. As it was, Barr was imbedded in sticky clay. He managed to get his face above the surface and began struggling to extricate himself. His cries brought persons to his rescue and after considerable difficulty he was brought to a place of safety.

The practice of dropping banana skins in the streets of Alexandria has often been commented upon. There was a time within the memory of most people now living when this tropical fruit was almost as scarce in this city as custard fruit of the torrid zones, but steamers now bring tons of bananas to Atlantic seaports and they have become, in a measure, staple food, and often sell as low as five cents a dozen. As they are practically within the reach of all, their skins are thrown about as profusely as those of apples. The danger incident to stepping upon them is apparent. While they can generally be avoided in the daytime, at night they are menaces to life and limb.

The city law provides fines for casting the skins of any fruit in the street, and it is often observed that if the police would apprehend some thoughtless persons and the Police Court impose the fine this danger could be minimized. We have a Civic Improvement League, the members of which have done much in times past towards beautifying the city. It would be well for this organization to add another plank to its platform and vie with the police in bringing delinquents to justice when they commit acts dangerous to themselves or others.

TO ELIMINATE GRADE CROSSING.

As will be seen by the text of the opinion of the Corporation Commission which appears on the first page of today's Gazette, the dangerous grade crossing of the Southern and Washington Southern Railways on the Telegraph road, a short distance west of Alexandria, will soon be a thing of the past. This intelligence will prove a great relief to the many who are compelled to run the gauntlet at that point in entering or leaving Alexandria.

Several serious accidents have occurred at this crossing in recent years, and on each occasion preliminary steps toward rendering conditions safer at this place have been initiated, but, so far, none has crystalized.

Meetings of those interested were recently held in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, but nothing was accomplished, as an issue was immediately raised by representatives of the railway companies, they contending that Fairfax county should bear part of the cost of constructing an underground or overhead crossing. Representatives of the county demurred and they have been sustained by the commission.

The Corporation Commission calls attention to the fact that the Telegraph road has been in existence over a century, many years before the railway companies placed their rails at this crossing, and that inasmuch as the place has been rendered dangerous, it is incumbent upon those who have brought about such conditions to provide safeguards immediately. Should the railway companies, however, feel aggrieved after the work shall have been finished, they can enter suit against the county for part payment, which issue will be decided by a proper tribunal. The Corporation Commisssion has no jurisdiction in this matter, as was contended by Fairfax county.

The Gazette has at times during the past quarter of a century called attention to the dangerous conditions at Telegraph road crossing, and on September 8th, the day after two of our citizens had been killed at Hume's crossing, this paper again referred to existing conditions at Telegraph road crossing.

The old saying—"all things come to those who wait"—is about to be fulfilled, although Alexandria city and Fairfax county have waited long for the passing of the grade crossing of Telegraph road.

Stampede at a Ball.

New York, Oct. 28.—Even the driving rain couldn't keep the men of Patchogue, L. I., off the street corners Saturday. Women glared at them as they went by, but the men grinned shamelessly and reverted to their discussions of last night's ball of the Patchogue Soccor Football Club in the Auditorium.

It was the first dance of the season, and most of the women were in fancy dress. The men were, too, for that matter, but they didn't figure in the incidents that occurred after Leon Moore, who used to be a theatrical man, slipped into the balcony shortly before 11 o'clock.

Yama Yama girls in Pierrettes were numerous on the floor at time, and around them circled other girls who wore what Patchogue now calls "die-in-funniness" skirts. No particular attention had been paid to any of the costumes—they were brilliant and attractive, but not outre.

Then Moore unlimbered a spotlight; a compromise in michief turned out all the other lights in the hall. Shrieks arose from the women and there was a rush for the exits.

Half an hour later some of the girls returned in spotlight resisting clothing, but Moore had fled.

Bomb Near West Point.

Highland Falls, N. Y., Oct. 28.—A powerful bomb, filled with nitroglycerine, was exploded yesterday morning on the window ledge of an Italian saloon near the West Point military academy.

A dozen or more buildings were damaged, scores of people in the little Italian colony were thrown from their beds and a panic followed.

Nobody was seriously hurt. The property damage exceeded $25,000.

Mob Threatens Justice.

Hagerstown, Md., Oct. 28.—After giving Marion Chaney a trial for fighting with Frederick McKee, who escaped from the officers, Justice Miller, at Clearspring, was obliged to lock the door of the courtroom against a mob that gathered outside and threatened him because he sentenced Chaney to jail for 30 days. They clamored for Chaney's dismissal and did not leave the premises until they had threatened to "get even' 'with the Justice.

AUTOMOBILE FATALITIES.

Thirty-two Persons Killed in New York in Nine Months.

New York, Oct. 28.—Figures given out by George Le Brun, clerk of the coroner's court, show a great increase in 1913 in the number of deaths in Manhattan due to automobiles over any previous year. In the nine months ended September 30th there were 132 deaths in Manhattan. At the same ratio the number for the entire year will be 176. Six were caused by mail wagons; sixteen by other automobile trucks, seven by taxi cabs, three by fire trucks and the rest by private cars. Fifty-eight of the victims were children under 12. The number of deaths in the borough of Manhattan caused by automobiles in three previous year were: 1910, 62; 1911, 90; 1912, 146.

Mr. Le Brun, who is secretary of the Legislative League for the Protection of Human Life, says the increase is due in part to a lax enforcement of the laws.

"With 234 deaths last year," he said, "in five boroughs, I believe no convictions were secured. There have been thirty-seven arrests this year and nine persons have been held by the coroner's jury to await the action of the grand jury. The main cause of the accidents is reckless driving and excessive speeding. So few arrests are made that it seems as though there were no attempt to enforce the law generally.

The mail automobiles killed four persons last year. This year they have already killed six. If they keep up at the same rate the increase will be 100 per cent for this year.

WILSON'S SPEECH AT MOBILE.

Policy of United States Toward South American Republic.

Mobile, Ala., Oct. 28.—While avoiding any mention specifically of Mexico, or any European influence connected with the Mexican situation, President Woodrow Wilson delivered a speech here yesterday which appeared to be freighted with significance and which served to point with further directness the policy of the United States, not only toward Mexico, but toward all Central and South American republics.

Mr. Wilson spoke before the Southern Commercial Congress, and the big audience which heard him constantly was swept with cheers and applause. The President smilingly took his hearers into his confidence when he explained he must speak "with moderation and without indiscretion."

The President declared that through motives of "morality and not expediency" the United States desired to help the Latin-American republics to an "emancipation from the subordination which has been inevitable to foreign enterprise."

The President's speech was uttered with a confidence which bespoke the dominant part of the United States expects to play in the future of the American republics. Not through any idea of "Material interest" he carefully explained, but through a love of the principle of constitutional liberty.

"The United States will never again seek to obtain one additional foot of territory by conquest," he declared amid applause.

Among other things the President said:

"States that are obliged to grant concessions are in this condition: that foreign interests are apt to dominate their domestic affairs. A condition of affairs always dangerous, and apt to become intolerable!

"We must prove ourselves their friends and champions, upon terms of equality and honor. We must show ourselves friends by comprehending their interest, whether it squares with our interest or not.

'It is not a very perilous thing to determine the foreign policy of a nation of the terms of material interest."

A LOVELY FACE— BUT UGLY HAIR.

How often you see an otherwise lovely face spoiled by homely hair—a face that would be most charmingly beautiful if she only had prettier hair. What a pity!—and how foolish! Because the ugly hair, stringy, dull, lifeless looking though it may be, can be made as glossy, soft, silky and beautiful as the heart could desire if only taken proper care of.

Harmony Hair Beautifier is just what is named—a hair beautifier. It is not a hair dye or hair oil—it is just a dainty, rose-perfumed liquid dressing to give the hair its natural gloss and brightness, its natural wavy softness, its natural rich beauty. Very easy to apply—simply sprinkle a little on your hair each time before brushing it. It contains no oil, and will not change the color of the hair, nor darken gray hair.

To keep your hair and scalp dandruff-free and clean, use Harmony Shampoo. This pure liquid shampoo gives an instantaneous rich lather that immediately penetrates to every part of hair and scalp, insuring a quick and thorough cleansing. Washed off just as quickly, the entire operation takes only a few moments. Contains nothing that can harm the hair; leaves no harshness or stickiness—just a sweet-smelling cleanliness.

Both preparations come in odd-shaped, very ornamental bottles, with sprinkler tops. Harmony Hair Beautifier, $1.00. Harmony Shampoo, 50 cents. Both guaranteed to satisfy in every way, or your money back. Sold in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store—one of the more than 7,000 leading drug stores of the United States, Canada and Great Britain, which own the big Harmony Laboratories in Boston, where the many celebrated Harmony Perfumes and Toilet Preparations are made.

Owes His Life to This Lung Remedy

If you neglect a continued cough or cold you are in constant danger of easily contracting serious lung trouble. The cough or cold which does not yield to ordinary treatment should be a warning to you and preventive measures should be taken as soon as possible. In many cases Eckman's Alterative, a remedy for Throat and Lung Troubles, has brought permanent recovery. Read this:

Catherine Ave. and Ascot Place, Queens Court, L. I., N. Y.

"Gentlemen: In the year 1908 I was taken with a heavy cold and a nasty short cough. I went to several doctors, who gave me a lot of medicine. Finally I went to a specialist, who gave me creosote that made me sick of all kinds of food; consequently I failed in health. I then went to the Catskills, and seemed to get better, but the cough still kept up. I stayed there for one year, and then went to a farm near Jersey City, a very sick man. About the time of my return, my brother recommended Eckman's Alterative to me very highly. It is now nearly two years since I first took it. I am now well, and I dare say that I would have been buried long ago if it had not been for Eckman's Alterative."

(Affidavit). JOSEPH J. TROESCHER.

Eckman's Alterative has been proven by many years' test to be most efficacious for severe Throat and Lung Affections, Bronchitis, Bronchial Asthma, Stubborn Colds and in upbuilding the system. Contains no narcotics, poisons or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet telling of recoveries, and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for evidence. For sale by all leading druggists
